APICS Fun

"Okay, who has been charging the department happy hours to the Supply Chain budget?"

Message for the Board

Hello everyone! This is coming to you from Bruce Balthazor, VP Certification. The format of the monthly message has changed this year from the President's Message to one where all BOD members will have an opportunity to write to the membership. I was selected to write the first message.

As we begin thinking about going back to school (our kids and possibly grandkids will be in a month or so) we must all continually improve as our companies must in order to maintain market share. A good vehicle for us is our CPIM review classes and gaining CPIM Certification.

Summer has been nice so far and of course it will be too short (not so with our winters)! So with the start of school and the APICS program year we need to think of what we can do to enhance or possibly jump start our careers. We are in a very competitive environment and need to set ourselves apart from the competition. One of the best ways to do that is to become CPIM certified. Many employers ask for certification just to be considered for an available position. We at the Shoreline Chapter offer a comprehensive and reasonably priced method to gain the knowledge necessary to pass the certification exams in our CPIM Review Classes that begin in late September (schedule included in this newsletter). We have seasoned instructors, not only in the classroom, but also in the workplace. They share many of their own experiences as well as the technical basics of Supply Chain Management. The classes can also be a refresher that provides CPIM certification maintenance points.

Please do consider taking the review classes. You'll be glad you did for many reasons! The experience, the knowledge, the opportunities it will open and the interaction you can gain with other like professionals. Enjoy the balance of the summer and I'll see you soon at a PDM or in one of our classes.
